Army Civilian Attitude Survey

Army appropriated and non-appropriated fund civilian employees who have not yet completed the Army Civilian Attitude Survey still have time to complete it. Local nationals will have the opportunity to take the survey soon.

The survey is an opportunity to be heard on issues that directly affect you as a civilian employee. The survey asks questions about leadership and management, job satisfaction, morale, training and development, and other topics. The results of this survey provide attitudes and opinions that will be used to evaluate the effectiveness of Army programs and initiate changes. Participation in the survey is voluntary and responses are confidential.

The survey is available online until Feb. 12 at www.cpol.army.mil/survey/dasurvey and may be taken during normal duty hours. Please note the survey is not designed for service members or contractors.
